Happy Independence Day!

This holiday reminds me of just how important it is for me to set the tone the image I want to share of OUR United States of America. As an RPCV sometimes it's easy for me to forget that awesome feeling of bei service to others. This month YOU have the opportunity to join us and grc hold to that wonderful feeling of doing good for those in need.

FCRPCV is volunteering at the Sulzbacher Center to prepare and serve me to the hungry. I would like to encourage anyone, who is on the fence, to b YES and join us for our volunteer service event. We have space fo 11 more. RSVP here

On Sunday, June 23, we had a generous group who voted to contributed $900.00, plus an amount from Taverna Yamas, our host. Our three presenters, the volunteers from Florida, and the money donated from FCF members to each project, is outlined below. Thank You all who contribute either paying dues or buying voting ballots.

association. The founding principle of this project is that the development of women and girls is completely self-sustaining.

community stakeholders community approved the idea and committed substantial resources towards the construction of the building.
The project will pay for itself out its own revenues after the third month of layer life, when they start laying. The goal of the project is to establish a sustainable business whose profits largely fund the school.

However, my community's primary school is in desperate need of classrooms.
There are 6 grades at t primary school, around 200 students, and only functional classrooms.
The village's 5th and 6t classroom were mud buildings that collapse in a rainstorm last June You get the idea, we ar very poor.
